I disagree with these. Young Americans should have the chance to volunteer for the military.

Young Men and women ~~how~~ have their own dreams and jobs, they what to do, besides going in to battle and maybe losing their lives.

If all the men and women coming out of school with to the military there would be less students going to college and be coming doctor and nurses. There would be a loss of jobs because there will be no body to work.

Making a person go to the military who has no idea of guns or no athletic ability is nonsense.

If a only child went to the military and was kill in battle it ~~was~~ would leave the family heart broke and no way to carry on the family name.

Score Point: 2

This response reflects flawed proficiency in persuasive writing skills. The writer is opposed to requiring all Americans to perform military service. Key ideas are listed to support this position (young men and women have their own dreams; maybe losing their lives; fewer students going to college; unfilled jobs; people lack knowledge of guns and athletic ability; loss of an only child). There is very little development and no apparent organization. In addition, there are serious spelling errors.
